

Stanford University Medical Center

Employee Parking Change

Effective October 2, 2017
Hoover and Quarry Road Parking Impacts

Project Overview

Stanford School of Medicine will begin an exciting project to construct the Center for Academic Medicine, a building that will include a four-story administrative space and a three-story underground parking structure to open in 2019. The center will primarily house clinical faculty, computational researchers and departmental administration and leadership.

Parking Impacts

'A' permit parking from lots 2 and 3 on Quarry Road will be displaced. Hoover Pavilion Garage will become 'Z', 'C' and 'E' permit only parking, and Lot 1 will become 'A' permit only.

Commuter Incentives

Eligible commuters receive incentives for sustainable commuting, including free vanpools with free premium parking and free transit passes. To learn more, please visit transportation.stanford.edu/discounts.

Designation Changes

Effective October 2, 2017, the below parking designations will take effect.

- Quarry Road Parking
 - Lot 2 will be patient parking only.
 - Lot 3 will be closing.
- Hoover Pavilion Parking
 - Lot 1 will become 'A' permit parking.
 - Hoover Pavilion Garage will become 'Z', 'C', and 'E' permit parking only. No other permit types allowed.
- Additional 'Z' permit parking will be available at:
 - Stock Farm Garage
 - Searsville Parking Lot (capacity increased)

For more information

For questions or concerns, please call 650-736-8000 or email parking@stanfordhealthcare.org.

Stanford University Medical Center

Employee Parking Change

Safety first!

- Avoid distractions.
- Motorists and bicyclists:
Share the road and follow the rules of the road.
- Pedestrians:
Use designated crosswalks.

